

Alduan Tartt Ph.D.

Dr. Tartt has been a practicing licensed positive psychologist for over seven years and has a very successful private practice in Decatur, Georgia. He has successfully worked with over three hundred clients in the Georgia, California, and Michigan. He is a graduate of both Morehouse College and the University of Michigan where he was one the youngest African-Americans to receive his Ph.D. Dr. Tartt enjoys the challenge of helping clients realize unlimited potential and growth in their personal and professional lives. He is a devoted father, community servant, and humanitarian. He currently serves on the Board of Directors for the 100 Black Men of DeKalb and previously served as vice President on the Board of Directors for AIM, Inc. (Aid to Children of Imprisoned Mothers). Dr. Tartt is also an associate member of NSA (National Speakers Association) of Georgia as well as Toastmasters International.

Dr. Tartt likes giving away the tricks of the trade to improve the art of parenting, communication skills, and keys to overall life satisfaction. His keynotes and workshops are entertaining, interactive, and highly informative. If you are looking for creative and lucrative ways to integrate psychology into your personal and professional life, Dr. Tartt's seminars are a must. His audience is diverse and ranges from parents who desire a better relationship with their children, high producing sale persons, government/non-profit agencies, couples, and high achievers who desire to accelerate their careers. His most recent speaking engagements included the 100 Black Men, Center for Family Policy and Practice, Your Travel Business, The DeKalb Taskforce for Runaway, Homeless, and Sexually Exploited Youth, and Toastmasters International conference.